For God and Country

June 2007—Regular Baptist Press (RBP) announces a new men’s Bible study, A Man and His Country, by Chaplain Allen “Doug” Ferry. This new title completes a men’s series of four titles, including A Man and His Money, A Man and His Ethics, and A Man and His time.

What is the role of Christians in our country? What should our response be to authority? How do military service, war, politics, and civil servanthood reconcile with God’s Word?

Chaplain Ferry’s involvement in both ministry and military provides a unique and insightful exploration of a man’s role in society. Our interactions in our community should mirror our lives as Christian soldiers. As believers we have a great responsibility to honor God and the authority He ordains.

A Man and His Country can be used as a group or an individual study. This book would be perfect for men in the armed forces or in civil service careers. It consists of 8 lessons with thought-provoking questions. Suggested answers for the questions are included in the back of the book.
